SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

The money which was appropriated for repairs has been judiciously expended and the needed work on the buildings in districts 2 and 14 has been completed and the schoolhouses put in excellent condition.

Upon a thorough investigation it has been found that the schoolhouse in district 16 needs to be entirely re-floored, and the foundation extensively repaired. It is estimated that $200 will be required on this building.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES.

It has been well said that "Good books and plenty of them make good schools." One of our greatest needs at the present time is a liberal appropriation for text books and school supplies. Without these our teachers and pupils are seriously handicapped. We are behind other towns in this respect. This is an age of progression and new books with new ideas and new methods are being published every year, and while we do not believe in changing too often, yet it should be made possible for our scholars to receive the benefit of the best books.

It is urged that as citizens and parents you will give attention to this matter and respond with a liberal appropriation.

TEACHERS

On the whole, we feel that satisfaction has been given by the teachers throughout the various districts. A united effort has been made by teachers and scholars for progress and beneficial training.

The good result on the scholars both in knowledge and discipline has been very noticeable in those cases where a great deal of time outside of school hours has been given by the teachers, and we know that the scholars and parents cannot help appreciating the efforts of such teachers. Whenever possible those have been selected who intend to make a life profession of the work; we believe that instructors of this kind will be, of necessity, interested in their work and they will also have the most advanced and best methods of teaching.

In some instances, young men in our own town of this type have been employed, and excellent satisfaction has been given. We feel it a duty to assist whenever possible all of our young people who are striving for a higher education.

It has been our ideal to secure the best teachers possible and we have endeavored to use no personal favoritism whatever,

HIGH SCHOOL.

The school year began under very flattering conditions. A large class entered from the Grammar school and several new pupils from the outlying districts came in, making in all a very interesting school.

In the winter term several of our young men were able to enter and thus gain something for themselves and help our school by adding to its numbers.

This department is under the direction of Mr. Harrie L. Webber, a graduate of Bowdoin College. It is pleasing to note that Mr. Webber has the school well in hand, gaining at once the respect and esteem of his pupils, thereby exerting an influence for good over the scholars.

Again we cannot urge too strongly the necessity of parents encouraging their pupils to spend some time at home in study each day. And if young people are in the habit of working a certain number of hours a day it is bound to accrue to their benefit. The longer lessons are studied the more time the instructor gets to aid the scholars with his university training.

Our town is especially fortunate in having a free High school and we should use every effort to increase its numbers and usefulness. This is an age when our young people must be trained in more than the common rudiments, in order to get to the front. The education of our forefathers is not broad enough for the young man and woman of to-day. We have the privilege at hand for our youth to receive a broader training than can be gained in a common district school, and let us not look slightly upon it, but rather let us uphold it, let us teach the children that it is what they must have to succeed and we will always find our school in a prosperous condition.

ATTENDANCE

It will be noted that the attendance for the past year has been about on the average with other years.

Parents must remember that in order to have good schools we must have good attendance. Scholars should not be kept out of school unless it is absolutely necessary. It breaks up the work of the teacher, destroys the interest of the pupil and is a hindrance and an annoyance to the whole school in many ways. It stands to reason that any pupil cannot do in a week what is given for two weeks' work and do it well. If parents would kindly consider these facts our average attendance could be greatly increased.

F. O. BARTLETT,
Superintendent of Schools.

St. George, Me., Feb. 13, 1904.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

By means of the appropriation of 1904, the school house in Dist. 16 has been so thoroughly sheathed and painted inside that no further repairs will be required for some time. Upon investigation it was found that the flooring was in a satisfactory condition.

On the other school buildings through the town no extensive repairs are needed, although several must be painted.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES

There is no one thing so necessary to good schools perhaps, as good books and material for the scholars use, in sufficient numbers to remove all irregularity in work and recitations. A little extra money appropriated each year for this purpose will make a surprising change in the work of the schools and in the efforts of both teachers and pupils. This does not mean that the town provide property for the children to use improperly or destroy; better care of books must result from the efforts of teachers, parents and children. One thing might be mentioned here: every new book should be covered before it is used in the class room. With the co-operation of all concerned in this way, the cost of school supplies might be reduced to a much lower figure in a very few years, but a more liberal appropriation is certainly needed this year as a basis for best results.

TEACHERS

Our teachers for the year have done very good work.

Each year they are getting more and more acquainted with correct methods and the result is gratifying. Many prepare their lessons in advance. Too much can not be said concerning the necessity of this practice. Every instructor, when entering the class room in the morning, should know exactly what points are to be treated, and in just what way they are to be introduced, during the exercises of the day. Thoroughness is another matter in which our teachers are appreciably gaining. We are beginning to understand that whatever course may be laid out for study, nothing is gained unless it be learned and learned well.

If one serious defect can be found in our schools, it is perhaps the study of English. The only way to teach English, is to use both books and correct speaking on the part of the teachers. Grammar is useless, unless the pupil listens throughout the day to language of the best quality, clear, simple, correct and serious. Teachers often wrongly consider that they must amuse the scholars in preference to instructing them.

HIGH SCHOOL

The future of the high school is perhaps the most important problem at present before our citizens. This institution, formed in accordance with the earnest wishes of the people, is the only means of obtaining a high standard of citizenship for every child growing to manhood in this town; especially those who for any reason find it impossible to continue their education elsewhere. The career of the school has been most satisfactory thus far and there can be no doubt concerning the advantages likely to result from it in the future; but we are obliged to confess that public interest is not sufficiently able to ensure that progress which we must have or eventually fail. In other words, if we are to educate our children properly we must see to it that the high school improve steadily with our earnest care. Many criticize the high school's failings without considering the difficulties which beset its path, and make it harder for the school officers and teacher to get any adequate results. The town loses much each year by sending scholars to other schools to complete their education. This money, if devoted to our own high school, would make it capable of giving the same instruction obtained at present at far greater cost elsewhere.

We hope that the scholars from this time on may continue in attendance steadily and earnestly enough to warrant a yearly graduation with its diploma equal in value, if not in name, to those given by other towns. Our present teacher, Mr. G. E. Bradbury, jr., a graduate of Bowdoin and holder of a degree of Master of Arts in Latin from the same institution, has had a varied and successful experience in college preparatory work.

Mr. Bradbury, by his earnest endeavors for the advancement of the school, has won the respect and confidence of his pupils. He is especially careful in his explanations, training his scholars to reason with clearness and precision.

ATTENDANCE

The attendance has held well up to the average except in certain instances. The co-operation of the parents is asked as a means of securing a good average in the membership of these schools. A school having a poor attendance cannot give good results. An absence of one day will destroy a child's interest in his work as well as the regularity of the school as a whole.
